

Trilogy Everything Balm

Marula Oil: Marula oil comes from the fruit of the Marula tree which is native to Southern Africa. Marula oil is revered in Namibia, Botswana, South Africa and Zimbabwe for its healing and health-giving properties thanks to its composition of monounsaturated fatty acids and antioxidants. The oil is especially rich in oleic acid, essential to the maintenance of healthy-looking skin. Trilogy trades with PhytoTrade Africa, the Southern African Natural Products Trade Association, Africa's only trade association dedicated to the development of a Fair Trade and environmentally sustainable natural products industry.

Olive Oil: Rich in vitamins and antioxidants. Olive oil is superior to mineral oils in penetrating power and works by nourishing your skin and stimulating its natural moisturising routine. It is a lovely yellowish green oil from ripe olives grown in the sunny, fertile soil around the Mediterranean Sea.

Rosehip Oil: Clinically proven to heal and repair skin, this oil is extremely rich in Omega 3 and Omega 6 and antioxidants and is recommended and endorsed by dermatologists and health professionals worldwide. Trilogy trades with a Fair-trade farmers Coop in Lesotho who grow and dry the seeds for Trilogy under ECO-Cert Organic certification.

Evening Primrose Oil: This beautiful oil has therapeutic botanical properties that are widely known. It contains high amounts of gamma linoleic acid that is one of the essential fatty acids vital for maintaining the function of the epithelial barrier membrane. Evening primrose improves the skin's hydration and ability to develop healthy barrier functions.

Wheat germ oil and Vitamin E: Essentially one-in-the-same as wheat germ oil contains high amounts of free-radical scavenging vitamin e (but we added a little more to really pack a punch). Another important constituent of wheat germ oil is lecithin – a natural emollient and antioxidant.

Honey: Comprised of a variety of sugars, wax and other substances including betacarotene, enzymes, amino acids and vitamins. This extraordinary ingredient has been a natural cosmetic of choice for centuries and it is loved even today for its softening and moisturising characteristics.